A Message From Patti

Dear friends of CWTC,

What defines success? Is it more money, a bigger house, a fancy car or more possessions?

To our consumers at CWTC it really isn't any of the above. It's having friends, getting to have a job they like, the ability to plan and attend chosen activities, or maybe just have a nice place to live. It's independence. Our consumers may work at CWTC or have a community job – whatever they feel is best for them.

They like to spend time with their friends, go out to eat, go to a movie, bowl – enjoy leisure activities. Many of our individuals live either in a group type facility or independently and are learning new skills every day.

What makes them successful? They are happy. They are making choices about where they want to work and live. They are focusing on their abilities and not their disabilities.

We can also learn a lesson from them - be happy, make your own choices and focus on the positive.

Enjoy your life!

Patti Gratton

Consumer Spotlight

Lorenzo is in the Consumer Spotlight this month! Lorenzo has been with CWTC for 14 years and resides in one of our residential facilities. It doesn't matter if there is rain, sleet, snow or sunny weather, Lorenzo makes sure he gets to work! He works hard in the bearing room to get the task completed on time. He is a dependable, hard worker that can be counted on whenever and wherever needed.

Getting Social!

There are so many ways to stay in touch with CWTC. Of course, our website is our main source for information on programs and services for our consumers, as well as opportunities for you to get involved. CWTC is also involved on many social media platforms including Facebook, Twitter, Instagram and LinkedIn. Just click on the icons below and be sure to "Like" or "Follow Us" to stay in touch with everything we're doing here and in the community. We appreciate YOUR support of adults with disabilities!

Partnering Opportunities

Even though CWTC receives support from the community, we also believe in giving back. Our consumers volunteer at over ten sites in the community and recently paid a visit to the Center for Prevention of Abuse to help them get ready for their appearance in the Old Settler's Days Parade. Leslie, Steffanie and Daniel placed stickers on the candy to help get the word out about the center's valuable services in Central Illinois. As they volunteer, they are also learning life skills such as safety, good work practices and communication, just to name a few. CWTC is always looking for more business partnering opportunities.
