

THE CWTC INSIDER

Creating a Pathway to Independence!

Issue 84 | July 2022

A Message from Patti

Dear friends of CWTC,

Next week we will be holding our Annual Dinner and Pathway Awards at the Louisville Slugger Sports Complex. We will be honoring the achievements of our consumers and collaborations with our community partners. This event gives our consumers the opportunity to be acknowledged for all their achievements. Even though all our consumers achieve many great things on a daily basis, we will be recognizing a few and celebrating with them.

I am so very proud of what our consumers and staff achieve daily. Every time we give a tour, or someone visits one of our sites they are so impressed with our consumers and staff. Some of the "highlights" that occur every day include: our very focused consumers commitment to fulfilling the requirements of our Caterpillar contract, accessing the community and learning skills to enhance their independence, keeping the Federal courthouse looking top notch, learning new job skills at community jobs, taking responsibility to volunteer and help others, learning to do laundry, cook and other daily living skills in their home environment. All of these things help our consumers improve their self-direction and empower them to increase their independence. And a big thank you to our staff who work right along side of our folks and treat them with dignity and respect and celebrate those little accomplishments with them.

There are lots of great things that go on at CWTC every day and we will pause for one evening to recognize just a few of them. To our staff and consumers, please know I am proud of you everyday and so thankful that I get to share in your successes. Keep up the good work!!

To our community partners – thank you for all your support!

All my best,

Consumer Spotlight!

Brian is in the community spotlight this month! Brian lives at our Pekin residential facility and has called it home for 24 years. He works at TCRC with his housemates. He is a diehard Cardinal fan, enjoys fishing, his coffee, and loves listening to country music! Brian likes to participate in IRVSRA bowling and has a very competitive spirit when it comes to games, especially checkers. He has a great respect and admiration for our armed forces which began with his dad who served in the US Air Force. Brian also likes spending time with his sister, enjoying road trips together and traveling around the state. He is currently learning how to budget his money and how to navigate his IPAD.
